

AccuserveOne

Contributed by Admin
Monday, 07 August 2006

Wake up companies, it's the 21st century! Are you still pushing around papers into those pesky filing cabinets? Couldn't you use the room for something more useful? AccuServe ONE wants to help you out by providing document scanning services and software. Save the trees and yourself the trouble by converting your paper information to electronic format.

Don't just take my word for it. Take your fingers to www.accuserveONE.com and check out the limitless testimonials by businesses just like yourselves and read the fine electronic print pouring out lines of satisfaction. Why are these companies so pleased? It's because not all services are the same; AccuServe ONE scanning services employ the use of Kofax VRS (Virtual Re-Scan) on all of their scanned images to ensure perfect image quality.

Why am I taking up your time and space to tell you this? Because AccuServe ONE offers a host of document scanning services to handle all backfile and scanning conversion needs that take up your company's time and space. They will make your documents available through any form of media such as CD's, DVD's, online for download, or more secure online web access pages.

Let us do some space saving here. 1 tiny CD is equal to the capacity of 1 filing cabinet or over 12,000 documents! 1 DVD equals the space of 7 filing cabinets or over 84,000 documents! What are you going to do with all that new space in the office and all the time you are going to save pushing papers around to find what you are looking for?

AccuServe One prides itself on efficiency and dependability just like your company, so it is no surprise they offer software, company and industry news, as well as easy-to-understand facts about the huge benefits of scanning. Run this website by the boss and maybe they will use the space saved to fit you into that nice corner office down the hall.