Reviewme is a great service started by ever growing and famous Text-Link-Ads.com Network. This time Patrick Gavin (President, Text-Link-Ads) has been extremely innovative and started the Reviewme.com website.

Now my first job, after signing up there is to add my blog network. Reviewme allows you to add upto 6 blogs, and i did that immediately :p. Reviewme also pays themselves to bloggers to review 'Reviewme'. So consider this as a paid review if you may!

ReviewMe is great for publishers (bloggers) as well as Advertisers and is a place where both of them can view what the other has to offer. The Bloggers are paid to post a review of the advertisers site. Now the difference between Reviewme.com and other sites like payperpost.com is that you can post an honest review of the advertisers site(or service/product), whereas in Payperpost you are forced to say something nice which is not really too pleasant.

The price at which you can sell a post on your blog depends on various factors such as 'Alexa Rank', Technorati Rank, and other factors they might have included which aren't disclosed. You can add upto 6 tags to your site, so it can be easier for advertisers to find their niche and choose a blog which suites them the best.

All said and done, Reviewme looks to me with a service with a bright future and can go a long way in Internet Marketing.
