Although Kimi Raikonen won the F1 World championship, i still love Fernando Alonso. I am planning to go to watch the Spanish grand prix next season, so am on my way to start my Spanish immersion lessons soon.

Spain is a great place to visit. The football is even better with the likes of top clubs like Real Madrid and Barcelona fighting it out.

My travel agent says, summer time is the best to go... any suggestions for this ? Savings for this trip has already started....
