There is no doubt which game is the best and most popular in the world. It has got to be Football (soccer). It is the most played sport in the UK and Europe and people are just made after it.

Specially when it comes to events like the UEFA Champions League final , people die for tickets. Trust me they are 1000 times harder to get than normal NFL Football Tickets . The last final was between AC Milan and Liverpool and it was great.

A repeat final of the 2005 Istanbul final, people were expecting the same result, but that didnt happen!
